District awards will range between $10,500 and $220,000 based on the number of Targeted Support and Improvement campuses, and these award amounts may increase based on the redistribution of unclaimed LEA funds.

The application is due on May 22, 2020, by 5 p.m. CT and must be emailed to grantapplications@tea.texas.gov. Any questions concerning the grant may be submitted to SIDivision@tea.texas.gov.

What is the Instructional Continuity Grant?

The Instructional Continuity Grant is designed to provide supplemental resources to districts to support improved student outcomes on targeted support and improvement campuses. The purpose of this grant is to increase the capacity of a district to facilitate instructional continuity and distance, remote, and/or virtual learning for identified campuses that have been affected by campus closures due to COVID-19.

The Instructional Continuity Grant may be used to support costs associated with the development and deployment of curriculum and curricular resources for remote or at-home schools, professional development for teachers on delivering effective virtual instruction, additional remediation or supplemental instructional supports, technical assistance from a Regional Education Service Center and costs associated with the activities aligned to the Instructional Continuity Framework.

Districts also can reserve up to 50% of the grant award to support additional Title I campuses that are within one level in the direct feeder pattern of the targeted support and improvement campus. For example, a junior high that is designated for targeted support and improvement, the Title I elementary schools that feed into the junior high, and Title I high schools into which the junior high feeds would also be eligible for use of these grant funds.
